Pattern Horse Racing

The National Saddle Clubs Association (NSCA) was established in January of 1965 as the first national organization of saddle clubs. The NSCA held its first national championship show in 1966, the first national saddle clubs show in the history of the nation.

The NSCA has adopted and will promote the sport of “pattern horse racing” referred to as O-Mok-See. This sport allows the entire family to compete and enjoy its horses together. The NSCA has adopted a set of pattern horse racing events for national competition. Competition is the very keenest, but with the greatest regard for sportsmanship and fair play.

Through standardized rules and regulations for pattern horse racing events, the NSCA is working to promote and cultivate cooperation and friendly relationships between saddle clubs throughout this nation, which is the prime purpose and objective of the NSCA.

This book is published to give saddle clubs a better understanding of the NSCA and to guide them in setting up their own rules and regulations.

The O-Mok-See Prayer

Dear Lord-

We pause, mindful of the many blessings you have lain along our path. We don't ask for special favors, nor do we ask that the blessings granted our opponents be diminished. Instead, we thank you for allowing us to experience friendship in one of its truest forms. To be able to gather with friends and loved ones to pay tribute to the great sport of O-Mok-See.

We ask that you guide us up the greatest lane of all, and that you as our final judge, will allow us to ride once more, where the sun never sets and where happiness rides beside us and never behind.

For this dear Lord, we thank you.

O-Mok-See An Indian Name

The most colorful performance on horseback of the Blackfeet Indian Tribe was the “oh-mak-see pass-kan” meaning “riding big dance.”

The second syllable of the first word is pronounced like our English word “mock”. The last syllable of the second word is sounded like our “can”. The Blackfeet had no written language. All we can do is render the sounds. There is no incorrect spelling, so long as the sound is correctly presented. One might even desire to leave the second word (meaning “dance”) off entirely, and simply make it (oh-mak-see) – “riding big.”

The Blackfeet “riding big dance” was not celebrated for some fifty years. All the old people remember it as a very striking performance. It was principally a war ceremony. Before setting out on a mounted expedition against the enemy, the warriors of the camp performed this “dance” as a part of the prelude of stirring up courage and enthusiasm for battle. The warriors put on their finest dress costumes, decorated and painted their best horses, carrying their war bundles, shields, lances and bonnets. They mounted and gathered at some distance out of sight of the camp. They turned and rode together at full speed into the great camp circle, circled around it once and then rode to the center of the camp. In the center of the camp were a number of old men and women who sang special songs and beat drums for the horsemen. The horsemen then rode their trained horses to the rhythm of the singers and drummers. From time to time, the riders dismounted and danced about on foot beside their horses, shooting in the air and shouting to one another to be brave when the battle came. If anyone fell from his horse during the ceremony, it was considered bad luck would follow.

O-Mok-See is more descriptive and more Western American than other names used for the sport of pattern horse racing.

O-Mok-See found its way into our western riding vocabulary in the same manner as the Spanish-American word “rodeo”. O-Mok-See, historically speaking, was coined by people who were living here long before the Spaniards arrived with “rodeo”.

Sportsmanship

The man on horseback, down through the ages, has been set apart from the man on foot. A man in a car or in an airplane is merely a man devoid of the romantic feeling inspired by a horse. Perhaps the man when mounted takes on the pride, courage, dependability, honesty and competitive spirit of his good horse.

The West was won by the man on horseback, and the National Saddle Clubs Association carries on this tradition. We saddle club people – men, women and children – ride for fun and not for business. Besides being with a horse, it is a pleasure to be with people with the same interests, resulting in the most treasured of friendships. To compete good-naturedly with one’s friends is the best of sports. If one wins, it is of course, fine. If one loses, it is still fine – if he tried hard and did his honest best. To have one’s competitors be happy that he won is indeed heartwarming.

We now lead the way in true sportsmanship. Let us continue to celebrate this tradition among all members of the National Saddle Clubs Association who desire to win fairly as superior horsemen and not by trickery and violation of the rules.

Arena & Property Specification

(See diagram-end of section)

1. The minimum size of a regulation arena for the NSCA Championship Show is 250 feet by 150 feet for four lanes; additional length is desirable. Arena shall not exceed 1½% grade in any direction and shall be free of rocks. Arena must be worked at least 3 inches deep and will be watered as needed. The arena will be inspected by the NSCA. Alterations may be approved by the Board of Directors.

2. All races, unless otherwise specified, will be run over a uniform course known as a lane. All NSCA Championship Shows will use four lanes unless otherwise approved by the NSCA Committee. Lanes will be 30 feet wide and 165 feet in length from the start/finish line to the turning line.

3. Lane divider lines shall be clearly marked with white lime. Lane divider lines to be minimum of 30 feet and a maximum of 50 feet from the start/finish line, but no closer than 25 feet to the fence and extending 35 feet beyond the turning line. Neither end of lanes will be boxed in. An orange marker cone (12-18" high) shall be placed at the starting end of each of the lane divider lines.

4. Lane number one (1) shall be on the contestant's left as they face the starting line.

5. Lane markers to be placed in front of the judges stands and should be easily readable from the in-gate.

6. All measurements to be made from the center(s) of the property (ies).

7. All properties to be painted white unless otherwise specified.

8. Thirty (30) gallon metal or plastic barrels to be used in all events unless otherwise specified.

9. Pole Bending stakes to be 1 to 1½" full round and five feet high. Bases to be of a round shape, a maximum of 15" in diameter, and edges, if sharp, to be covered with a rubber hose or like material. Total weight of base not to exceed 16 pounds. All poles to have uniform bases.

10. Poles for Barrel & Stake/2 Barrel Flag to be 1 to 1¼" diameter full wooden dowel/stakes and 5 feet in length (no spliced/glued dowel to be permitted).

13. NSCA officials have the right to modify the arena to fit the grounds as needed for safety reasons with a two-thirds vote by NSCS officials.

Start

1. When contestants are in front of their respective lanes, they will be given the ready light signal by the announcer. This shall signal to the contestants, judges and spectators that the race may start.

2. Any contestant who enters the arena and crosses the start/timer line before a ready light signal has been given will be disqualified.

3. After the first horse starts the electric timer, remaining horses will have 10 seconds to start – to be judged by the timer.

4. The Rescue Race will be started by a sound device.

5. Any contestant who crosses the start/finish line in any heat and/or lane other than what is called by the announcer from the master time sheet shall be disqualified.

6. When riders enter the arena, they are indicating they are accepting their properties as set.

7. Lane Judges, Head Judges, and Arena Directors will be responsible for checking properties to determine they are set correctly before the contestant is given the ready light. If contestants have entered the arena and are in their perspective lanes and a determination is made by the officials that properties are not correct, the announcer will be notified to either request contestants to exit the arena, stay in place to wait for start, or waive the 10 second rule for the affected contestant.

Judging of Events

(See also specific event descriptions & duties of officials)

2. Judges have the power to disqualify a contestant for the following:
 - A. General disqualification for not following rules of the event.
 - B. Completely (completely meaning all four feet of horse at the same time) crossing over lane divider line. If going out of lane far enough to interfere with another contestant, the one interfered with shall be awarded a re-ride (see re-rides & ties #1).
 - C. Knocking over any property (property being anything used in an event that is moveable). Any property that touches the ground with its top portion and returns to an upright position shall be deemed a property knocked over.
 - D. Intentionally hitting a horse with a property or baton.
 - E. Poor sportsmanship, intoxication or unruly conduct.
3. Judges may not coach or cheer any contestant in any lanes as to proper patterns or any other instruction or encouragement.

Re-rides & Event Ties

1. A re-ride shall be awarded if a contestant or their horse is interfered with before a disqualification occurs if the interference: 1) possibly affects a contestant's performance; or 2) causes a contestant's disqualification. The contestant must decide whether to accept the re-ride before their time may be announced.

2. Anytime a contestant makes a qualified ride and there is a power failure/mechanical failure, operator's mistake or timer interference by another contestant, a contestant will be allowed two (2) chances to make a qualified ride. The announcer may not stop contestant(s) once a race has started since contestant(s) must still qualify before a re-ride will be awarded.

3. All re-rides for interference/timer failure must be taken at the end of the contestant's corresponding age group.

4. Ties to be run off unless both contestants decide to flip a coin. Loser to take the lower position. In case only one wishes a run-off, the one refusing will take the lower position. Run-offs are for placing only and times will not be considered for NSCA records. There shall be a one (1) second penalty imposed on each property knocked over in tie run-offs.

5. Horses and riders may not be substituted during re-rides or tie run-offs with the exception of a medical emergency approved by the rules committee.

5. All high point winners must be present at the awards banquet to accept the high point award. In the event the high point winner is absent, the award would be given to the reserve high point person, if present. 2. The turning line must be crossed by horse and rider in all races except those specifically prohibiting it.

3. In all events, rider(s) must be astride horse when crossing finish line unless otherwise specified. Astride shall be defined as one leg on each side of the saddle or horse. Leg shall be defined as the rider's knee joint even or across the spine of the horse.

4. An attempt to mount shall be defined as making contact with horse, rider and/or equipment behind the turning line.

7. A contestant shall be disqualified for steadying a set property with their hand in any even unless otherwise specified.

8. No horse and rider may be led into the arena with the exception of the 7 & Under age group. The person leading horse and contestant must immediately exit arena once horse and rider are in their respective lane. No ready signal can be given until all persons leading 7 & Under
